

DRUMS ALONG L.I. SOUND

RICHARD HARBUS

YOUNGSTERS meet White Wolf as drums sound at Orchard Beach for Native American powwow yesterday. Descendants of the Taino tribe of the Caribbean called it an Areito. But either way, it was a chance for both groups to celebrate and educate others about their heritage. The event, which was blessed with beautiful summer weather, was complete with traditional costumes, dance, drumming and native crafts and food.

